

School District of Washington Extends Closure Through April 24

After consulting with state and local officials, along with other area school superintendents, the School District of Washington is announcing an extension of the current school closure through Friday, April 24, due to COVID-19 pandemic. This includes all school extracurricular activities, practices and events.

We will be sending out more details over the next several days, but this means that the SDOW's Alternative Methods of Instruction, along with the grab-and-go and delivery meals, will continue through April 24.

We recognize this continued closure will generate many questions, especially for families with students who are seniors. We will share information and updates as soon as they become available. We ask for your patience as we work through many of these details.

A letter from Franklin County School Superintendents will be emailed to you later today and it will be posted on the School District of Washington's website.

Once again, due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the School District of Washington is extending its closure through Friday, April 24.
